

125 KJV

Thank you so much for the picture of your family and congregation, I don't know if it effects other people this way, but it seems my prayers are more personal when I can visualize them in my mind.

I just want to clarify that I am not against other translations of the Bible as long as long as the old King James version is used as a base point. Especially for pastors and teachers of the word.

I say this because MOST versions are revised from a copy of a copy.

When I was a child we played a game where we would all gather in a circle and the first person would whisper something into the ear of the one on his right. That person in turn would whisper what you said to the person on their right. This continued until the last one and then they would repeat out loud what was whispered to them. Usually what was heard was so distorted from what the beginner said, and thus it is with these new versions including the NEW King James Version.

You see ALL these new versions were changed so that they can supposedly understand what they are reading.

Well there is no version that can be understood by mankind, EXCEPT they ask the Holy Spirit for the meaning. If you reread the teaching letter #108 – the mind of Christ I sent to you, it will clarify what I'm saying.

The reason I like The original King James version is because all through the Dark ages there was no bible except what the Catholic church had and forbid the people to read it.

God moved upon King James to make the scriptures available to ALL the people. It took them 40 years to recopy the original Holy Scriptures, through much fasting and prayer.

There was a couple bibles that were revised from the already distorted Catholic bible.

When the KJV bible was released, it spawned many revivals including Martin Luther. God has used it for many revivals through the years, it was good enough for man until the later years (1948) then Satan moved upon the simple minds of men that did not trust God, To make new translations because man could not understand it.

Since when has God needed man to protect his word?

These modern versions have brought such great divisions in the body of Christ because as they study the scriptures they all use a different version which has a different meaning. And Thus DEVISION, you know the Devils motto. Divede and Concur.

We thank all of you for your prayers, as you said, there is none of us righteous all together and we never stop learning. God will always guide us if we let him.

Revelation 3:19* As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent.

Hebrews 12:8* But if ye be without chastisement, whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sons.

We are definitely upholding you, your family and all the body of believers of which God has set you as a Shepard over and we claim true Christian increase, in saints, finances, and ALL the Necessities.

May this find you in Joy, Peace and Love in our Lord and savior Jesus Christ
