To answer your question about not liking someone, I will first of all will relate a story about a man and his two children.

He had a daughter and a son, and until their teen years they loved the Lord and their parents.

The girls mother judged her daughter by what and how she lied and manipulated her own father when she was young. She started to alginate herself from her daughter due to her judgements. This unfortunetly caused pain and strife in the girl and families life.

When the girl grew up, she did a lot of things that was against the advise her dad offered her. Now she loved her dad, but wouldn't listen to his advise, now this hurt him very much. But he loved her and understood the rejection she got from her mom and brother and even tho she kept on deteriorating her spiritual walk and her physical health, he stood by her. It hurt him deeply to see just how low she sunk in sin and self pity. He hated what she was doing, but loved her and kept on praying and trusting the Lord for her deliverance and healing.

To make this story shorter, Jesus healed her and restored the joy of her salvation.

Now the boy moved away in his teens and he would phone his dad when he had been drinking and would cuss him out and tell him how bad a father he had been, because he had disciplined him, sometimes fairly severe as he was growing up. But again he new and understood that the boy's mom had told him just how overbearing and mean his dad was to him and her.

Now he knew how he himself had put his own mother up on a pedestal and what she said was ultimately true and she could do no wrong. So he would say: "I'm sorry you feel that way but I love you and I know I made mistakes, but I did the best I could with what I knew at the time, and for that I'm sorry."

The boy came home for a few weeks a few years later and apologized to his dad and said it was the alcohol that was to blame. All was forgiven and they had a good relationship for several years. Until again he started to listen to lies from those who were bitter against his dad.

You see, when people think and dwell on the bad things that they have heard or even as others do, it will only separate you from fellowship with God and lead to unanswered prayer and eventually, sin.

Revelation 2:6 But this thou hast, that thou hatest the deeds of the Nicolaitans, which I also hate.

1Peter 4:18 And if the righteous scarcely be saved, where shall the ungodly and the sinner appear?

You see, God HATES the SIN but LOVES the sinner.

God promises, all those who live Godly in Christ Jesus, SHALL suffer persecution. 2Timothy 3:12

This is a promise, they will call you a Hippocratic, self righteous, or so spiritually minded your no earthly good.

Psalms 119:11 Thy word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not sin against thee.

If you have the word of God in you, it can't help but come out. People that are not sincere to the Gospel feel that you are judging them (not true) and will be mean or aloft to you because they either don't understand the gospel or feel inadequate themselves.

Matthew 5:46 For if ye love them which love you, what reward have ye? do not even the publicans the same?

Matthew 5:41to 47 And whosoever shall compel thee to go a mile, go with him twain.

42 Give to him that asketh thee, and from him that would borrow of thee turn not thou away.

43 Ye have heard that it hath been said, Thou shalt love thy neighbour, and hate thine enemy.

44 But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you;

45 That ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven: for he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust.

47 And if ye salute your brethren only, what do ye more than others? do not even the publicans so?

We are not of the world, just in the world. In other words, don't do what they do.

2Corinthians 10:3 For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war after the flesh:

Romans 7:19 For the good that I would I do not: but the evil which I would not, that I do.

Matthew 6:14 For if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you:

In other words don't wait for them to ask forgiveness chances are they never will unless they get right with God's calling.

Matthew 6:15 But if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

Matthew 18:21 Then came Peter to him, and said, Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? till seven times?

Which is better, to forgive and live or hold a grudge and die in your sin.

We sometimes can not understand or forgive by ourself. So this is where we ask God to take away any unforgiveness we may retain.

You see, we will not always like somebody because of how they act or what they say, BUT LOVE THEM IN CHRIST ANYWAY.

They didn't treat Jesus right either, I'm sure he didn't like or enjoy it, but he loved them and said father forgive them.

We all have to stand before Christ and give account of everything we SAID or DID that we haven't repented of.

Repent means to STOP IT, ask for forgiveness, make amends and make right what you have done if possible.

The worst thing we can do when we don't like someone is to hash over all the reasons we don't like what they do. This is what brings sin into our lives
