Henry Ford Motor Company.....

submitted by Waterloo

On June 16, 1903, the Ford Motor Company was established. Henry Ford was the founder. This was not his first rodeo, as he had previously operated the Henry Ford Company. He left that company and took his name with him. What became of the Henry Ford Company? They became known as the Cadillac Motor Company.

Ford's Model T, which would number in the millions sold, required 100 board feet of wood to build. Ford despised waste. His motto was, "Reduce, reuse, and recycle." He was also a nature-lover, an environmentalist of his time. His escape from the stress of life was camping in the great outdoors.

Frustrated by the mountains of sawdust his lumber mills created, he and his partners sought a way to utilize the scrap wood and sawdust into a useful (and profitable) product.

An idea came to him one day as he was camped with some friends in the wilds of Michigan . After his party spent a long time collecting sufficient wood for a campfire, an idea spring in Ford's mind. Upon returning back to the lumber mill, he shared the idea with some of his partners and set to work on it.

The idea? Lumping a fistful of sawdust and cornstarch with a bit of tar to form a briquette. After charring it, it performed exactly what Ford imagined it would. He then built a charcoal briquette factory adjacent to his lumber mill where the waste from one became the fuel for the other.

A new Model T was now frequently sold with a bonus bag of Ford Charcoal Briquettes, so you could drive into the woods to camp and not worry about finding campfire wood.

So now you know. Ford not only created the modern automobile industry which takes millions to work and back each workday, but he also created the weekend grilling and camping industries.

In 1951, the Ford Charcoal Briquette Company was sold. The new company was named after Ford's real estate partner who helped him find the land to supply wood for building the early Ford automobiles- E.J. Kingsford.

Kingsford Charcoal is the largest producer of charcoal briquettes in the world.

Exodus 35:31 in the OT there were those skilled in engraving, mounting gemstones and more.....and they were a master at their own craft.....so it was with Henry Ford who was a brilliant man.

This is not where I got FFT from, but it's the same principal, only with God adding his word.

Can you imagine wanting to make sure you drove by a certain gas station every day just to see the message on the chalk board? It's true -- a gas station has become quite a landmark in Gauteng, South Africa because of its daily uplifting quotes written on a chalkboard. Some people say they deliberately travel this route just to read the quote to brighten their day. The lady behind this wonderful initiative at Hutton Hyde Park is Alison Billett. She told SA People: "We inherited the board from the previous owner, Dick Hutton, when we bought the filling station from him almost 20 years ago. "We continued the tradition and it has become a landmark – more so now that it's on social media!"

"Not a day goes by when I don't get a call or a visit from someone to tell me how much they appreciate the message. It seems that every day there's something that just speaks to what is going on in someone's life and that inspires or motivates them.

"Having people come and tell me their stories and how the quote helped them in some small way is what motivates me to keep writing! "We use a variety of quotations – some are topical, some are funny, some are inspirational, some even reflect what is going on in my life that day!

"Different things appeal to different people...

"The boards were spotted by a motivational speaker from the UK, Geoff Ramm, when he was driving by one day and he was so taken by them he included a piece about them in his book!

"The boards have appeared many times in newspapers and magazines and been spoken about on radio stations all over the world. 9GAG has re-tweeted them a few times too!" Bob 95 FM in the USA recently posted Alison's "Rest in Peace" quote which has now been shared over a quarter of a million times around the world!

A mother was concerned about her kindergarten son, Timmy, walking to school.

He didn't want his mother to walk with him.

She wanted to give him the feeling that he had some independence but yet know that he was safe.

So she had an idea of how to handle it.

She asked a neighbour if she would please follow him to school in the morning, staying at a distance, so he probably wouldn't notice her.

The neighbour said that since she was up early with her toddler anyway, it would be a good way for them to get some exercise as well, so she agreed.

The next school day, the neighbour and her little girl set out following behind Timmy as he walked to school with another neighbour girl he knew.

She did this for the whole week.

As the two walked and chatted, kicking stones and twigs, Timmy's little friend noticed the same lady was following them as she seemed to do every day all week.

Finally she said to Timmy,

'Have you noticed that lady following us to school all week? Do you know her?'

Timmy nonchalantly replied, 'Yeah, I know who she is.'

The little girl said, 'Well, who is she?'

'That's just Shirley Goodnest ,' Timmy replied, 'and her daughter Marcy ...'

'Shirley Goodnest? Who is she and why is she following us?'

'Well,' Timmy explained, 'every night my Mum makes me say the 23rd Psalm with my prayers, 'cuz she worries about me so much.'

And in the Psalm, it says, 'Shirley Goodnest (surely goodness) and Marcy (mercy) shall follow me all the days of my life', so I guess I'll just have to get used to it.'

Nu 6:24-26 The Lord bless you and keep you; the Lord make His face shine upon you, and be gracious unto you; the Lord lift His countenance upon you, and give you peace.

May Shirley Goodnest and Marcy be with you today and

A CHILD'S VIEW OF THUNDERSTORMS

A little girl walked to and from school daily. Though the weather that morning was questionable and clouds were forming, she made her daily trek to school. As the afternoon progressed, the winds whipped up, along with lightning. The mother of the little girl felt concerned that her daughter would be frightened as she walked home from school.

She also feared the electrical storm might harm her child.

Full of concern, the mother got into her car and quickly drove along the route to her child's school.

As she did, she saw her little girl walking along.
At each flash of lightning, the child would stop, look up, and smile.

More lighting followed quickly and with each,
the little girl would look at the streak of light and smile.

When the mother drew up beside the child,
she lowered the window and called, "What are you doing?"

The child answered, "I am trying to look pretty because God keeps taking my picture."

I have a friend who lives by a three-word philosophy: Seize the moment.

Just possibly she may be the wisest woman on this planet. Too many people put off something that brings them joy just because they haven't thought about it, don't have it on their schedule, didn't know it was coming, or are too rigid to depart from their routine.

I got to thinking one day about all those women on the Titanic who passed up dessert at dinner that fateful night in an effort to cut back. From then on, I've tried to be a little more flexible. How many women out there will eat at home because their husband didn't suggest going out to dinner until after something had been thawed? Does the word "refrigeration" mean nothing to you? How often have your kids dropped in to talk and sat in silence while you watched Jeopardy on television?

I cannot count the times I called my sister and said, "How about going to lunch in a half hour?" She would gasp and stammer, "I can't, because (check one) I have clothes on the line - My hair is dirty - I wish I had known yesterday - I had a late breakfast - It looks like rain." She died a few years ago. We never did have lunch together.

Because Americans cram so much into their lives, we tend to schedule our headaches. We live on a sparse diet of promises we make to ourselves when all the conditions are perfect. We'll go back and visit the grandparents when we get Stevie toilet-trained. We'll entertain when we replace the living-room carpet. We'll go on a second honeymoon-when we get two more kids out of college.

Life has a way of accelerating as we get older. The days get shorter, and the list of promises to ourselves gets longer. One morning, we awaken, and all we have to show for our lives is a litany of "I'm going to, I plan on, Someday when things are settled down a bit."

When anyone calls my 'seize the moment' friend, she is open to adventure and available for trips. She keeps an open mind on new ideas. Her enthusiasm for life is contagious. You talk to her for 5 minutes, and you're ready to trade your bad feet for a pair of roller-blades and skip an elevator for a bungee cord.

My lips have not touched ice cream in 10 years. I love ice cream. It's just that I might as well apply it directly to my hips with a spatula and eliminate the digestive process. The other day I stopped the car and bought a triple-decker. If my car had hit an iceberg on the way home, I would have died happy.

It is the same for eternity, have you secured your reservation for heaven or are you procrastinating? Until its too late !! ALL YOU HAVE TO DO IS BELIEVE JESUS IS WHO HE SAID HE IS, THEN TELL HIM SO. To easy for you?

Romans 10:10* For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation.

Justice

First day of class the law teacher walked in the first thing he did was ask for the name of a student sitting in the front row.

What's your name?

My name is Nelson

Get out of my class and never come back he ordered him.

Nelson was confused. The teacher was heading towards him so he got up quickly, packed up his stuff and left the classroom.

Everyone was scared and outraged but no one was talking.

Very good, now lets get started. What are laws for? Asked the teacher

The students were still scared but slowly they started answering the question. To have order in our society.....NO.....so that people pay for their actions.....NO.....does anyone know the answer to this question?

For justice to be done spoke shyly by a young girl.

Finally.....but what is justice?

Everyone was starting to get mad at the teachers attitude however they kept answering.

To protect the rights of the people.....OK but still to differentiate good from bad, to reward those who do good? OK so answer this question....did I act correctly when I kicked Nelson out of class?

Everyone was silent, no one responded. I want an answer the teacher yelled.

NO they answered in one voice.

Could we say I committed an injustice? YES

And why has nobody done anything about it? Why do we want laws and rules if we don't have the will to practice them? Each of you is obliged to speak up when you witness and injustice.....all of you..don't ever stay quiet again

Now go and get Nelson.....after all he is the teacher and I'm just from another period.

You know when we don't stand up for our rights, dignity is lost and dignity can't be negotiated!!

Isaiah 1:16-17 –Wash you, make you clean; put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes; cease to do evil;

17 Learn to do well; seek judgment, relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow.

Master's Hand..... Submitted by Waterloo

'Twas battered and scarred and the auctioneer thought it hardly worth his while to waste his time on the old violin but he held it up with a smile.

What am I bid good people he cried, who wants to start the bidding for me? One dollar, two dollars, who will give me three?

Three dollars going once, three dollars going twice.....going for three.....

From the back of the room a gray bearded man came forward and picked up the violin and bow and wiping the dust from the old violin and tightening the strings he played a melody pure and sweet as sweet as the angels sing. The room was silent except for the music of the violin.

The music ceased and the auctioneer with a voice that was quiet and low said, what now am I bid for this old violin and he held it up with the bow.

One thousand? One thousand, do I hear two? Two thousand.....do I hear three? Three thousand going once, three thousand going twice when someone said five thousand!

The auctioneer said.....going, going SOLD for five thousand dollars.

The audience cheered but some of them cried. We just don't understand, what changed it's worth?

Swift came the reply.....the Touch of the Masters Hand!

And many a man with life out of tune all battered and bruised with hardship is auctioned cheap to a thoughtless crowd much like that violin. A mess of pottage, a glass of wine, a game and he travels on.

He is going once, he is going twice, he is going and almost gone but the Master comes and the foolish crowd never can quite understand the worth of a soul and the change that is wrought by the touch of the Master's Hand.

John 3:16.....For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that who believes in Him should not perish.....the touch of the Master's Hand.

I am so glad for you, and praise God for answering prayer.

So many times we miss the blessings of God by not listening to what the Spirit is trying to tell us, we are waiting for a sonic boom and not a small feeling.

Hi, just wanted you to know we found a new puppy, picked her up yesterday. We got her from Red Deer which was nice.

Had to tell you the story behind it as it was God sent.

We had a line up to just look at a litter the end of this month in Camrose. Tom wanted a tan multicolor Bishon-Shih-Tzu cross and they had poodle cross. We decided we would get one even though it was a different breed and they were all white. As we have looked around locally for a long time there was nothing available we settled on Camrose. Then, I kept getting this strong feeling to check one more time.

I ignored it, and the feeling got stronger, so I checked.

Low and behold there on kijiji was a listing for the exact breed, the exact color we wanted and female.

So we went to look. Someone just ahead of us came from Edson to get her but at the last moment they took the pure white one. The second we walked into the house the little girl came running to us and never left our side. Brought her home last night, no crying or fuss, already went to the bathroom on her pee pad etc and slept thru the entire night.

We feel so blessed and so happy cause God gave us exactly what we wanted and needed. Specially at this time

Thought you might like to read this letter to the editor of a British national newspaper. Ever notice how some people just seem to know how to write a letter? Here is a woman who should run for Prime Minister!

Written by a housewife, to her daily newspaper:

'Are we fighting a war on terror or aren't we? Was it or was it not started by Islamic people who brought it to our shores in July 2002, and in New York Sept 11, 2001 and have continually threatened to do so since?

Were people from all over the world, not brutally murdered that day in Washington , and in downtown Manhattan , and in a field in Pennsylvania ?

Did nearly three thousand men, women and children die a horrible, burning or crushing death that day, or didn't they?

And I'm supposed to care that a few Taliban were claiming to be tortured by a justice system of the nation they come from and are fighting against in a brutal insurgency.

I'll care about the Koran when the fanatics in the Middle East start caring about the Holy Bible, the mere belief of which is a crime punishable by beheading in Afghanistan .

I'll care when these thugs tell the world they are sorry for hacking off Nick Berg's head while Berg screamed through his gurgling slashed throat.

I'll care when the cowardly so-called 'insurgents' in Afghanistan come out and fight like men instead of disrespecting their own religion by hiding in mosques and behind women skirts and children.

I'll care when the mindless zealots who blow themselves up in search of Nirvana care about the innocent children within range of their suicide bombs.

I'll care when the British media stops pretending that their freedom of speech on stories is more important than the lives of the soldiers on the ground or their families waiting at home to hear about them when something happens.

In the meantime, when I hear a story about a British soldier roughing up an Insurgent terrorist to obtain information, know this:

I don't care

When I see a wounded terrorist get shot in the head when he is told not to move because he might be booby-trapped, you can take this to the bank:

I don't care.

When I hear that a prisoner - who was issued a Koran and a prayer mat, and 'fed special food' that is paid for by my taxes - is complaining that his holy book is being 'mishandled,' you can absolutely believe in your heart of hearts:

I don't care.

And oh, by the way, I've noticed that sometimes it's spelled 'Koran' and other times 'Quran..' Well, believe me!! you guessed it ...

I don't care!

If you agree with this viewpoint, pass this on to all your E-mail friends. Sooner or later, it'll get to the people responsible for this ridiculous behavior!

If you don't agree, then by all means hit the delete button. Should you choose the latter, then please don't complain when more atrocities committed by radical Muslims happen here in our great country! And may I add:

'Some people spend an entire lifetime wondering if they made a difference in the world. Our soldiers don't have that problem.'

I have

Fx defining forces have ever offered to die for you:

- 2. The British Soldier.*
- 3. The Canadian Soldier.*

Lost City

Submitted by Waterloo

Beneath the surface of Lake Minnewanka, located in Banff National Park, rests the remains of a former resort town.

Many visitors don't realize that the lake, as it appears today, is a modern addition to the natural landscape, and that the area, before it was flooded, was home to a bustling lakeside resort town that today can only be visited with scuba gear.

Known as Minnewanka Landing, the summer village located at the base of the Canadian Rockies had lured city dwellers from nearby Calgary for years, most notably beginning in 1886 with the completion of the Beach House, a hotel constructed out of logs. Over the years the town grew to include four avenues, three streets, dozens of cottages, numerous hotels and restaurants, and multiple sailing outfits that would take guests on boat excursions around the (much smaller) original lake.

It wouldn't be until 1912 that the area's landscape would start to evolve with the construction of a new dam—part of a Calgary Power Co. hydroelectric plant operation being set up downriver—resulting in the flooding of a good portion of Minnewanka Landing. But while the town continued to thrive over the next two decades (42 lots were built to make way for additional cabin sites), it would finally meet its fate in 1941 with the building of a new dam, which raised the reservoir's waters by 98 feet, engulfing everything in its wake.

"It was during the Second World War Calgary was growing substantially during that point in time and required more power, so Lake Minnewanka was seen as an easy end."

Many structures of the former resort town still remain intact, including house and hotel foundations, wharves, an oven, a chimney, a cellar, bridge pilings and sidewalks. Even the footings from the town's original dam, built by the federal government in 1895, along with the footings from the dam built in 1912, remain visible if you are a diver.

Rev 21:23 in the new city of Jerusalem there will be no need of electricity for the glory of God will illumined it

Jesus came for a visit.....

If Jesus came to your house to spend a day or two
If He came unexpectedly I wonder what you'd do
Oh I know you'd give your nicest room to such an honored guest
And all the food you'd serve Him would be the very best
And you would keep assuring Him you're glad to have Him there
That serving Him in your own home is joy beyond compare
But.....when you saw Him coming would you meet Him at the door
With arms outstretched in welcome to your heavenly visitor

Or would you have to change your clothes before you let Him in Or hide your magazines and put the Bible where they had been
Would you turn off the TV and hope He hadn't heard
And wish you hadn't uttered that last loud hasty word
Would you hide your worldly music and put some hymn books out
Could you let Jesus walk right in or would you rush about
And I wonder.....if the Savior spent a day or two with you
Would you go on doing the things you always do
Would you go on saying the things you always say
Would life for you continue as it does from day to day
Would your family conversation keep up it's usual pace
And would you find it hard each meal to say a table grace
Would you sing the songs you always sing and read the books you read
And let Him know the things on which your mind and spirit feed
Would you take Jesus with you everywhere you'd planned to go
Or would you maybe change your plans for just a day or two
Would you be glad to have Him meet your very closest friends
Or would you hope they'd stay away until His visit ends
Would you be glad to have Him stay forever on and on
Or would you sigh with great relief when He at last was gone
It might be interesting to know the things that you would do
If Jesus came in person to spend some time with you

Jesus isn't some outsider that helps us in times of need.....He lives within His Believers
Galations 2:20 says I am crucified with Christ and it's no longer
I who live but it is Christ who lives in me..

DO YOU REALLY LOVE JESUS, THEN WHY DON'T YOU TRUST HIM.

Forgive.....forget.....

An old man meets a young man who asks: "Do you remember me?" And the old man says no. Then the young man tells him he was his student, And the teacher asks: "What do you do, what do you do in life?" The young man answers: "Well, I became a teacher."

"ah, how good, like me?" Asks the old man.

"Well, yes. In fact, I became a teacher because you inspired me to be like you."

The old man, curious, asks the young man at what time he decided to become a teacher. And the young man tells him the following story:

"One day, a friend of mine, also a student, came in with a nice new watch, and I decided I wanted it. I stole it, I took it out of his pocket. Shortly after, my friend noticed the his watch was missing and immediately complained to our teacher, who was you.

Then you addressed the class saying, 'This student's watch was stolen during classes today. Whoever stole it, please return it.' I didn't give it back because I didn't want to. You closed the door and told us all to stand up and form a circle. You were going to search our pockets one by one until the watch was found.

However, you told us to close our eyes, because you would only look for his watch if we all had our eyes closed. We did as instructed. You went from pocket to pocket, and when you went through my pocket, you found the watch and took it. You kept searching everyone's pockets, and when you were done you said 'open your eyes. We have the watch.'

You didn't tell on me and you never mentioned the episode. You never said who stole the watch either. That day you saved my dignity forever. It was the most shameful day of my life. But this is also the day I decided not to become a thief, a bad person, etc. You never said anything, nor did you even scold me or take me aside to give me a moral lesson. I received your message clearly.

Thanks to you, I understood what a real educator needs to do. Do you remember this episode, professor?

The old professor answered, 'Yes, I remember the situation with the stolen watch, which I was looking for in everyone's pocket. I didn't remember you, because I also closed my eyes while looking.'
This is the essence of teaching: If to correct you must humiliate; you don't know how to teach."

Eph 4:32 says to be kind to one another, tender hearted and forgiving just as Christ forgave you.

A small bottle containing urine sat upon the desk of Sir William Osler, he was then the eminent professor of medicine at Oxford University. Sitting before him was a classroom full of young wide eyed medical students listening to his lecture on the importance of observing details. To emphasize his point, he reached down and picked up the bottle and holding it high he announced;

This bottle contains a sample for analysis. Its often possible by tasting it to determine the disease from which the patient suffers and suiting to his words he dipped a finger into the fluid and then into his mouth. As he continued he said now I am going to pass the bottle around and each of you please do exactly as I did. Perhaps we can learn the importance of this technique and diagnose the case.

The bottle made its way from row to row as each student gingerly poked his finger in and bravely sampled the contents with a frown. Dr Osler then retrieved the bottle and starled his students with the words;

Gentlemen, now you will understand what I mean when I speak about details. Had you been observant you would have seen that I put my index finger into the bottle but my middle finger into my mouth!

There is much to be learned by this story especially regarding you and your Bible. Time and again we've heard it said, 'I just don't get anything out of the Bible, I don't understand what I'm reading' and other excuses that people have NOT to read the Bible.

The good news is that you need to force yourself to observe what you're reading and pay attention to the details of what you read!

Think of it as your eyes as searchlights.....don't glance at birds.....see them and what kind of birds they are.... robins, sparrows etc ! Don't smell flowers....smell them to see what kind they are, tulips, roses etc. Don't just look at a tree.....what kind is it, a birch, a willow?? Don't watch cars, notice them to see if they are a Ford, Chev, Dodge etc.

Stop being general and stretch your mental muscles and you will get a deeper indepth of everything, including what you read in the Bible.

You can be at the scene in Gethsemane where Jesus prayed among the gnarled and twisted trunks of the olive tree's but it takes training to be observant and only you can accomplish that but you will be so blessed when you do.

Mark 13:5 Jesus said take heed (be alert) that no one deceives you!

1 Peter 5:8 Be sober, be vigilant; because your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour:

Judging.....

*Did you roll your eyes at that 350 pound man in front of you in the all you can eat buffet line? Would you judge him a little differently if you learned that he has an inoperable brain tumor and needs to take steroids that blow up his size?

*Remember the way you screamed and glared at that lady who started to drift into your lane? Would you have reacted any different if you knew that she was driving home from the hospital after her daughter had just passed away?

*Did you judge that guy who stood helplessly by while the lady in front of him struggled to lift her heavy carry on bag from the overhead bin? Would you think differently if you knew he was flying home from two spine surgeries and wasn't allowed to raise his arms or lift anything more than 5 pounds?

*Or maybe that guy you thought was rude because he didn't acknowledge your greeting in the elevator? Would you cut him a little more slack if you discovered that he just left his lawyer's office making a bankruptcy filing for his business and was thinking about how to tell his family.

*You remember what you thought about that lady in front of you at the checkout trying to sneak a few more items in the 10 or less line? Would it matter so much to you if she had a special needs child at home or was a caretaker for an elderly parent and was desperate to get back to them quickly?

*You know that new guy that seemed aloof to you, would you have given him more of a chance if you found out he has social anxiety disorder and needs extra time to open up to people.

*Did you think the guy on the bus was a jerk because he didn't get up and offer his seat to that elderly lady? What if he's a wounded soldier and under those slacks are two prosthetic legs that he's still learning to balance on?

Maybe the better question is this.....are we to quick to judge?

Matt 7:1 Do not judge or you too will be judged for in the same way you judge others you will be judged.

We all have to make judgement calls (is it wrong or right, is it safe or not or will it bless or condemn, and so on).

How to Stop climate Change

Firstly, believe in Jesus and his written word.

The bible says that as it was in the days of Noah, when God destroyed the living with a flood that covered the highest mountain by 15 cubits.

Genesis 7:20 Fifteen cubits upward did the waters prevail; and the mountains were covered.

The bible says that in the end time, the people will be as they were in Noah's day. All their deeds were evil, except eight people, Noah, his wife, three sons and their wives. He had Noah build an ark to hold his family and two of each kind of critter, to carry and keep them while the earth was covered with water.

Today, it is no different from in Noah's day, man don't need God they can fix things them self, even the elements which they didn't create in the first place.

This time, instead of a flood to destroy the evil of man, he is going to let the man of Satan loose to rule for seven years.

In this time period you will have to be willing to be beheaded for standing for Jesus and not taking the beasts mark. You won't be able to buy or sell without it.

God has allowed a sample for us now, if you don't have the Covid vaccine, you can't travel, go to a restaurant and many other things. They belittle you, accuse you of being inconsiderate of others and so on, but they haven't got to the point of throwing you in jail or killing you. "YET"

As long as society as a whole, believed and prayed to God, he would control the climate and elements for our sake. But percentage wise the huge majority do not believe in God, figure we don't need God or through religion, have brought God down to our level. IN OTHER WORDS our society is evil. The disciples or righteous are going to be raptured shortly, then the Beast or the Antichrist will come to power for seven years.

Then Jesus himself will come and rule this world, with a rod of iron, and Satan will be chained for 1000 years. There will be no temptations from the Devil but man can still think of things, but just remember Christ will RULE with a rod of iron and will deal with rebellion or whatever, immediately. When Satan is released at the end of the 1000 years, he again will tempt man and the bible says he will gather a GREAT army to fight against Christ. And the bible says that he will destroy them with the breath of his mouth.

God protects you from climate change, Pandemics, etc. but,,,, YOU HAVE TO TRUST AND LIVE FOR HIM

Practice to trust God now

WHAT'S AN INFIDEL?The author, Rick Mathes, is a well-known leader in prison ministry. The man who walks with God always gets to his destination. If you have a pulse you have a purpose.

The Muslim religion is the fastest growing religion per capita in the United States, especially in the minority races.

Last month I attended my annual training session that's required for maintaining my state prison security clearance. During the training session there was a presentation by three speakers representing the Roman Catholic, Protestant and Muslim faiths, who each explained their beliefs.

I was particularly interested in what the Islamic Imam had to say. The Muslim gave a great presentation of the basics of Islam, complete with a video. After the presentations, time was provided for questions and answers. When it was my turn, I directed my question to the Muslim and asked: 'Please, correct me if I'm wrong, but I understand that most Imams and clerics of Islam have declared a holy jihad [Holy war] against the infidels of the world and, that by killing an infidel, (which is a command to all Muslims) they are assured of a place in heaven. If that's the case, can you give me the definition of an infidel?'

There was no disagreement with my statements and, without hesitation, he replied, 'Non-believers!'

I responded, 'so, let me make sure I have this straight. All followers of Allah have been commanded to kill everyone who is not of your faith so they can have a place in heaven. Is that correct?'

The expression on his face changed from one of authority and command to that of a little boy who had just been caught with his hand in the cookie jar.' He sheepishly replied, 'Yes.'

I then stated, 'Well, sir, I have a real problem trying to imagine The Pope commanding all Catholics to kill those of your faith or Dr. Stanley ordering all Protestants to do the same in order to guarantee them a place in heaven!'

The Muslim was speechless.

I continued, 'I also have a problem with being your friend when you and your brother clerics are telling your followers to kill me! Let me ask you a question: Would you rather have your Allah, who tells you to kill me in order for you to go to heaven, or my Jesus who tells me to love you because I am going to heaven and He wants you to be there with me?'

You could have heard a pin drop. Needless to say, the organizers and/or promoters of the 'Diversification' training seminar were not happy with my way of dealing with the Islamic Imam, and exposing the truth about the Muslims' beliefs.

In twenty years there will be enough Muslim voters in the U.S. to elect the President. I think everyone in the U.S. should be required to read this, but with the ACLU, there is no way this will be widely publicized, unless each of us sends it on! This is your chance to make a difference.

FOR the GOSPEL'S SAKE....SEND THIS ON!
